AMERICA AND THE GERMAN DEBT

The proposal that the debt of Germany to the allies shall be extinguished by a bond issue of two billion dollars, five hundred million dollars of which shall be sold to American investors, is one of doubtful advantage to the United States. American investments in Europe have been increasing with such rapidity that many believe we are approaching the danger line as a creditor. With every additional dollar of American investment in Europe, our stake in the European game becomes greater and the pressure to involve the United States in the political affairs of Europe becomes stronger.

It has been fully demonstrated in connection with European debts to the United States that nobody loves a creditor, and that our post war lendings to European powers have stored up an immense supply of dislike of America. Every additional American billion sent to Europe increases the intensity of that dislike. However welcome the money may be when it is advanced, the necessity of paying it is irksome. The American government's suggestion of the payment by France of that part of our loans which were made after the war was over has been received as something of an insult. Our home grown outlanders have joined in the chorus which depicts Uncle Sam as a Shylock demanding his "pound of flesh." There is an easy way out of such a quandary and that is to cease loaning money to those who soon begin to believe that the credit thus extended becomes a grievance on settlement day.

The suggestion that we become creditors of Germany to the extent of a half billion dollars which might easily become a billion—because these obligations cannot readily be marketed elsewhere than in this country—is full of disagreeable potentialities. First of all, the German people will come to resent the fact that Americans have so huge a mortgage on their industries. We will be about as popular in Germany as an installment collector.

Moreover, the demand will arise, and not unreasonably, that we should take our pay in goods. This is the necessity which is troubling Germany's European creditors. Bismarck discovered that the two billion dollar indemnity levied on France after the Franco-Prussian War became a liability rather than an asset. It was necessary for the French to pay in goods. This slowed down German industry and quickened French industry. As a direct result of that transaction, Bismarck, citing the benefits of the American tariff system, established protectionism in Germany, thus stimulating the modern industrial growth of his nation.

The United States did not demand, at the peace conference, a cent of indemnity from Germany. Those who did, seem anxious to saddle upon us whatever odium attaches to the collection of indemnities demanded by others and whatever adverse economic consequences may come from the collection of a staggering debt. Then Germany will be told that after all the United States is the real Shylock of the situation and unani-mly will be brought about on the continent in dislike for the United States. As matters now stand, friendship for the United States is more prevalent in Germany than in the nations with which we co-operated in the World war. Our government should not be a party to any arrangement whereby dislike of the United States may be made general in Europe. Those who levied the debt on Germany should collect it, and not put Uncle Sam on a disagreeable job in which he has no direct interest.

Whenever we sit down at a European council table we do not fare well. Tenderfeet should not play poker against adversaries who have had long experience in shuffling cards and joining hands against amateurs.

A report says that the pay of the average college professor is only about one third what it should be. Judging from their public expressions, however, we know of a few of them who would be overpaid at a dollar a day.

TWO COUNTRIES IN BATTLE ON MENINGITIS

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 13—UP—Doctors in two counties have formed an international health service to fight spinal meningitis which has gripped Arizona since Jan. 3.

Dr. A. L. Gustetter, Nogales, Ariz., health officer is cooperating with Nogales, Sonora, Mexico, health authorities and a constant check is being kept on the six cases across the line in that section and the one case at Nogales.

Boundary Line Opened

Health officials declare there will be no motiv for declaring a quarantine at Nogales unless the same drastic measures are applied across the line.

The international boundary line at Nogales was opened today to students residing in Nogales, Sonora, who had been barred from attending schools at Nogales, Ariz.

No new cases had been reported in the state late today. The total cases in Arizona number 61. More than 20 deaths have occurred within 30 days.

Meetings Banned

All public gatherings are banned in Glendale.

Peoria schools have closed again after reopening Monday. Attendance was low due to the epidemic scare.

Alhambra schools will remain closed several weeks health authorities declare.

Earl Butler, Glendale youth was returned Monday from Hot Springs Junction, Ariz., has been stricken with spinal meningitis and today was removed to a Phoenix hospital.

THREE KILLED BY LIVE WIRES

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 13—UP—Three men were electrocuted here today by current from a broken high tension wire running through wet ground.

The dead men are S. Narres, 25; Lloyd Smith, 30, and Fred Wright, 27, employees of a street contracting firm.

They were at work on a drainage ditch when a steam shovel operated by Smith broke the wire. The wire fell to the ground and Narres and Wright received the full voltage. Smith jumped down from the steam shovel and collapsed.

Texas has 185,000 miles of roads, o fall types within its borders, according to the California State Automobile association.

Shipwrecked Wales On Beach!

ONE OF STRANGEST sights ever seen in South Africa—hundreds of whales lying dead on the beach in the vicinity of Kommetje, Cape Peninsula. The monsters were washed ashore by the stormy seas. Here citizens are watching workmen sawing a whale in two. The carcasses were later dragged away and buried in trenches.

Traffic Officer Freed Of Blame In Auto Charge

PITTSBURG, Feb. 13—An affidavit exonerating Traffic Officer William H. Barber of all blame of a charge of driving a machine without the owner's consent, was signed by M. E. Booth, Pittsburgh steel worker. Booth had previously sworn to a complaint against Barber. Barber declares that he will endeavor to have the charge dismissed when it comes up for hearing in Oakland on Feb. 26.

Barber says Boo's automobile was pointed out to him in Oakland as a stolen car. He took the machine to Pittsburgh, wrote Idaho authorities seeking to establish the identity of the owner, and then turned it over to the manufacturers' agent in Oakland when letters to Idaho failed to reveal the owner.

They were at work on a drainage ditch when a steam shovel operated by Smith broke the wire. The wire fell to the ground and Narres and Wright received the full voltage. Smith jumped down from the steam shovel and collapsed.

DeMolay Group To Meet Tonight

A state business meeting of the Richmond chapter of DeMolay will be held tonight at the Point Masonic hall, under the direction of Raymond Turner, master councilor.

Plays will be arranged for de-gro work to be held in the near future.

MARRIAGE DATE FOR LINDY UNDECIDED

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 13—(UPI)—Anne Spencer Morrow, who is interested in 18th century French literature and aviation, isn't sure just when she will become the bride of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh or just where they will make their home after the wedding.

Mrs. Elizabeth R. Morrow, wife of the American ambassador to Mexico, in an interview today, told of the girlhood days of her daughter whose engagement to the world-famous flier was announced in Oakland on Feb. 26.

Anne and Col. Lindbergh have not made any plans for the wedding, she said. They have no plans as to where they will live and nobody in the family has the least idea as to their intentions.

Wedding in Spring

There were indications, however, that the wedding might be held late this spring.

Lindbergh is expected to fly here late this month. He has been invited to open a new mail route from Brownsville, Tex., to the capital.

The quiet, dark-haired girl who has suddenly sprung into worldwide prominence by the announcement of her engagement, looks with great distaste on the necessary publicity, her mother said.

Bride Is Poet

Anne's ability to write poetry and excellent poetry, too, indicates the type of girl who will be Lindbergh's wife. She won a prize in the Poetry Society competition in New York with a poem entitled "Height," which deals with intellectual growth.

Mrs. Morrow explained that Anne had been receiving hundreds of cables of congratulation today—most of them from college friends. She attended Smith college.

Then she admitted that the romance budded without the Morrow family knowing "just how." She said she would not say how it started and that she believed no one ever knew those things.

Was Editor

Mrs. Morrow said her daughter's interests both in college and school centered on literature, in which she majored at college. While at Chapin school in New York she played hockey.

Anne's particular extra-curricular activity in college was to act; one of the editors of the "Smith Monthly."

Mrs. Morrow said Anne's record at college was good, but, despite this serious nature, she is not in the least delicate. She plays both golf and tennis.

CIRCLE ONE, WESLEY AID HAS LUNCHEON

Circle One of the Wesley Ladies' Aid held a covered dish luncheon yesterday at the church parlor.

Friendship Club To Install Heads

Officers will be installed by the Friendship club of Odd Fellows and Rebakahs Saturday night in Odd Fellows hall.

WIFE SUICIDE IN TRIANGLE MURDER

WILLIMANTIC, Conn., Feb. 13—UP—Mrs. W. E. Jackson whose husband, William E. Jackson, was murdered a month ago allegedly by Trevor Ries who for a year had been a horter in the Jackson home, committed suicide in her home here this afternoon.

She shot herself to death about two hours after she had testified at a secret inquest into the death of her husband held by Coroner Arthur G. Bill.

Officer Pierre Marotte who was on duty near the Jackson home and who had been instructed to watch it since the murder, heard a shot about 4:15 p.m. and went into the house finding the body in the bathroom. He called Miss Juanita Jackson and later summoned two physicians who examined the body. County detective Edward J. Healey was called from Hartford and the house was placed under guard pending his arrival for a complete investigation.

Bearded Indicted

It was reported that the attentions of Ries to Miss Jackson and his friendship to Mrs. Jackson had been contributing causes to the quarrel which resulted in Ries leaving the Jackson home a week before the murder.

Last Monday Mrs. Jackson had been a witness before the grand jury hearing at Putnam, Conn., at which Ries formally was indicted for Jackson's murder. After the indictment was returned, Mrs. Jackson and her daughter chatted in friendly fashion with Ries, before he was taken to jail at Brooklyn, Conn.

Inquest A Formality

This inquest today had been planned largely as a formality, the grand jury having already voted in the case, but after it was adjourned word was given that three new witnesses had given important testimony. There was no indication of the nature of the testimony by these witnesses, nor that given by Mrs. Jackson.

The inquest opened about 1 p.m. and Mrs. Jackson had gone to her home. She appeared unusually calm and undisturbed.

Mrs. Jackson was a middle-aged woman, plain in appearance, who enjoyed a quiet life in this small town.

She was active in church and fraternal organizations.

Her husband had been a cowboy in his early days, had served in the Spanish-American war, and was said to have been a friend of the late Theodore Roosevelt. For many years he had been a power in the town of Willimantic, where he was a city commissioner, county detective, deputy sheriff and former mayor.

The village was startled when it heard that Jackson had been shot to death, but when Ries was taken into custody, soon after he acted as a pall-bearer at Jackson's funeral, and was later charged with the murder, the case became Connecticut's reigning sensation.

It was indicated yesterday that the city may withdraw its opposition to the installation of mechanical signals after they have given a fair test. Whether or not this move will be made remains to be seen.

New Signals Soon

W. E. Boland, signal engineer for the Southern Pacific yesterday stated that the Southern Pacific is contemplating the installation of the new type of signal at the Cutting boulevard crossing. It is planned to start actual work within 60 days; the delay being due to the fact that the railroad has none of the new signals in stock at the present time.

It is understood that the signals will be placed on both sides of the crossing, "in such a position that it will be visible night and day."

Several fatal accidents have occurred at the Cutting boulevard crossing. Recently a woman and her daughter were killed at this crossing.

There have been no fatal accidents at the Pullman avenue crossing in the last 10 years. But, the city contends, that the danger at the crossing has been doubled through the paving and widening of Pullman avenue and the increased traffic.

Crossing Inspected

Yesterday officials inspected the crossing and discussed the proposed sites of the signals.

A formal hearing will be held in San Francisco Feb. 23 and at that time it is expected representatives of the city will be empowered by the city council to grant permission to the railroad to have the signals installed for a test. They will be operated manually during the test period.

City Manager James McVittie, City Engineer Ed Hoffman, and Councilmen W. W. Scott and A. L. Paulsen represented the city of Richmond at the conference yesterday. W. E. Boland, signal engineer; R. J. Starrett, signal superintendent and H. A. Wells, assistant superintendent represented the Southern Pacific company while J. E. Cooper and H. L. Englehardt were present from the railroad commission.

ALLOTMENT OF VEHICLE TAX FUNDS MADE

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 13—Allocation of approximately half of the $7,220,621.59 in motor vehicle tax received during 1928 to California counties was announced today by the state division of motor vehicles.

Central Costa's share of the revenues based on registration of cars, trucks and other vehicles, is $16,631 on a total registration of 22,030 cars. This shows a distinct gain over 1927 when registrations totalled 21,491 cars and revenues amounted to $15,359.

Half of the total receipts for last year, of $3,919,610.59, goes directly to the California state highway commission and the remainder after salaries for traffic officers have been deducted is pro-rated among the counties.

Total registrations for cars in the state during 1928 numbered 1,846,412 and revenues show a gain of $259,401 over the preceding year.

Raisin Growers Elect President

PITTSBURG, Feb. 13—UP—R. P. Merritt, mentioned as a possible member of President-elect Herbert Hoover's cabinet in political rumors, was relieved of duties as president of the Sunland Raisin Growers association here today by the election of Harry M. Czech as his successor.

Merritt founded the new Sunland organization about five years ago and watched it grow to one of the largest concerns of the state. It has often been used as an example by proponents of the cooperative plan of marketing.

He has been a political power in the state and has been closely associated with the administration of President Coolidge.

The political rumors that Merritt would receive a share in the new administration had their inception when he visited Hoover several times in Palo Alto prior to the election.

At the Carmichael club here girls will also be the theme. At the present time the boys are mainly scheduled to be held here.

He will be vice president and general manager.

He will be succeeded by Harry M. Czech, his successor.

1929

Will be a most prosperous year for Richmond, and one of great activity industrially and in the building line.

Harbor development will reach such a stage that deep water will be available for the largest vessels.

What Is Coming

Ford Motor Company will start on its new assembling plant the latter part of the year.

The Mintzer tract of nearly 200 acres will be developed so that industries will be afforded choice locations.

The two new harbor units of the City of Richmond and the Parr Terminal Corporation, costing over $500,000 will be completed next July and be ready to receive cargo.

There is much activity at the new plant of the California Spray Chemical company, and the plant will be operating shortly after January 1st.

All plans for the new factory of the California Vitreous Porcelain company are complete, and work on the buildings to be erected on Kearny street will start in about two months.

There are many other things in the wind, for 1929, details of which will be given you later.
